

European Severe Storms Laboratory “Heino Tooming Award”

for the

European Conference on Severe Storms 2007

Trieste, Italy

10 – 14 September 2007

<http://www.essl.org/ECSS/2007>

Who is eligible to receive the “Heino Tooming Award”?

Any outstanding scientific presentation at the European Conference on Severe Storms (ECSS 2007) by a group led by a European scientist and involving collaborators from at least one other European country, fostering in this way collaboration across this continent in the field of severe weather research. The award is endowed with a prize of 300 €.

How will the award decision be made?

Representatives of the ESSL Executive Board will make the decision on-site at the ECSS 2007, based on the oral or poster presentations.

How will the Award be presented?

The “Heino Tooming Award” will be presented during the ECSS 2007 by the ESSL Director. The recipient will receive a certificate, a cheque of 300 (three hundred) Euro and a letter of congratulations.