ESWD user access

Full and supporting members receive user access to the European Severe Weather Database (ESWD). Prior acceptance of the ESWD terms of use is mandatory for data access. This has to be declared in a separate user access request form.

Access to the ESWD:

(Please check the appropriate box!)

<input type="checkbox"/> not requested	<input type="checkbox"/> requested for other use:
<input type="checkbox"/> requested for scientific use

Please note that according to German tax regulations for ESWD access VAT will apply for the membership fee. Scientific use: Only for members of universities and non-profit research bodies.

Tax deductibility of membership fees and donations

As a non-profit research organisation, the ESSL is also entitled to provide donators and members with formal contribution receipts for their donations and membership fees – which makes the donations and membership fees tax-deductible. The formal contribution receipt will be sent to each member on request after the end of the calendar year.
