Membership fees

The ESSL annual membership fees for the first year of subscription are published under the section "Institutional Supporting Members" on the following webpage:

<https://www.essl.org/cms/about-us/essl-membership/>

Please note that the membership fee undergoes a yearly inflational compensation, based on the EUROSTAT Harmonized EU Consumer Price Index of the previous year.

ESSL annual membership for the first year: EUR - based on number of employees:
(full-time equivalents)

Membership fees are to be paid annually until 30 March of the respective calendar year to the bank account given below. The first membership fee is due on joining the association. Irrespective of the date of joining the association, the full annual membership dues have to be paid. In case of withdrawal, exclusion or death, there is no entitlement for reimbursement of membership fees (see also § 7 of the Articles of Association, available at www.essl.org). Voluntary withdrawal occurs with written statement to the Executive Board. Withdrawal is only possible effective at the end of a calendar year, within a term of notice of three months (see § 8) after two full years of membership.

--	------------------------------------

Please note that according to German tax regulations for ESWD-access VAT will apply for the membership fee. VAT will not be invoiced if the regulation on inner-EU services or similar regulations apply.

Tax deductibility of membership fees and donations

As a non-profit research organisation, the ESSL is entitled to provide donators and members with formal contribution receipts for their donations and membership fees – which makes the membership fee tax-deductible. The formal contribution receipt will be sent to each member on request after the end of the calendar year.
